

SEQIRUS

Holly Springs Manufacturing Facility

Aerial shot of the Seqirus Holly Springs manufacturing facility in Holly Springs, NC

The Holly Springs site uses an isolator-based high-speed syringe filling line to fill its commercial products.

The Holly Springs site uses a highly trained workforce for all of its manufacturing operations.

The Holly Springs site uses a highly trained workforce to conduct its analytical operations, including sampling, assaying, and review of results

The Holly Springs site uses a highly trained workforce for all of its manufacturing operations.

Close-up of one of Holly Springs' processing vessels.

The Holly Springs site uses a highly trained workforce for all of its manufacturing operations. Here an associate observes a unit operation through a site glass on one of its vessels.